Winter Transplanting Of Trees Recommended

Transplanting of trees during the winter, provided the ground is not frozen too deeply, is recommended by W. E. Jackson, extension forester of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Trees, Mr. Jackson says, may be safely transplanted in fall and spring, or there is no better time of the year to transplant trees than now up until the ground freezes to some depth.

"Trees transplanted during the late fall and early winter will have a better chance of surviving during the dormant period of the winter months, and the trees are ready to start growing in the spring season when they start to put out buds and new leaves."

"Seedling trees of several varieties, both hard woods and conifers, can be secured from the State Tree Nursery for fall planting. For next month's seedling trees, secured at the county agency or by writing the Experiment Station, Jackson said.

HOMEMAKERS

THE Mt. Washington Homemakers Club met December 19 at the home of Mrs. C. L. Stansbury. Thirty-one ladies present, among them six new members, Mrs. James Max Rouse, M. B. Maguire, Tom Porter, Vernon McAfee, Frank Bleemel and Amos Brown.

Mrs. Bleemel, presiding, opened the meeting with a reading of the birth of the Christ Child by Mrs. Vernon McAfee. A live turkey was the winter cake of shrubs, roses, trees, etc., by Mrs. Dewey Alexander.

At lunch, all agreed that the festive meal, prepared by Mrs. Alexander, Rouse and Smith are excellent menu makers and the hot rolls made by our hostess were excellent.

In the afternoon an interesting display of pictures of Christmas decorations for the home and a demonstration of wrapping Christmas packages by Miss Mary Rouse.

Christmas party ended after the wrapping of our exchanged gifts.

Next month we meet at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Tishner.

CIDAR CREEK

The December meeting of the Cedar Creek Homemakers was held at the home of Mrs. Everett Tishner.

Interesting talks on the history of the county were given by Mrs. B. Williams and Mrs. Jess Tharp.

Mrs. Wheeler brought the devotional and gave a talk from Consumers' Research on electrical appliances.

Two games were played under the supervision of Mrs. Henry Groves who will use to buy Christmas presents for the children of Pleasant Valley School.

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Rountree and Hagan.

Mrs. P. K. Schroeder, who is the former active and useful.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul M. Watson will be the Christmas Eve service at the church.

40 YEARS AGO

CHRISTMAS 1907

The Jeffersonian, Dec. 19, 1907, forty years ago, was a "Just-better-Christmas-I'm-as-good-as-I-can-be" paper. It was filled with Christmas good cheer inspiration, seasonal ads and columns of Santa Claus letters. On Page 1 set double column in center was an eleven-stanza poem on the Nativity, "The Advent of Peace," by Lucy Carpenter Kennedy of Jeffersontown. The poem started off with "Countless ages have flown, from this old world was young, when on lowly Nazareth came one night, an angel from God's throne in wonder, both sublime and grand, this Gabriel sallied forth, and straight to challenge, He came—and there His message brought."

The Jeffersonian announced in this issue that there would be "No paper next Christmas week." Money has been collected to have the old Jeffersonian entirely cleaned up. Fire Sunday last had damaged buildings of the old Jeffersonian, the building still in the lead, Miss Mary Hoke of Jeffersontown, second; May Bell Rudy of St. Matthews, third; Mr. and Mrs. David Hickman of Fern Creek celebrated their golden wedding.

Miss Sarah Jordan of Harrodsburg and Mr. James Bullock of Deer Park were united in marriage at the home of the bride Wednesday evening, Dec. 18, at 6 o'clock. They will reside in Harrodsburg.

Oak Grove News

By Mrs. M. B. Graham.

Mr. Albert Berger has returned from Cincinnati where he went Thursday to attend the funeral of his brother-in-law, Mr. Byers, who was struck by an automobile on his way to work, and died of his injuries.

Mr. Norman Reganauer was suffering with influenza Wednesday evening. Have had no further news, but hope he is much better by this time.

Mrs. George Workman is helping out in the Jacob Scholz florist shop, during the Christmas season.

Mrs. Fred Kuntz was supper mistress at the home of Mrs. M. B. Graham, Wednesday.

Mrs. Charlie Dickerson and daughter, Mrs. H. H. Dickerson, were in Louisville Friday on business shopping.

Mrs. Will Stout is reported to be moving into his new home on a short time. She hopes to be up on her feet soon.

We will sign our New Year wishes all a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Jefferson F.B. Members Attend Chicago Meeting

Farm Bureau folk from Kentucky—130 of them—were in attendance at the twenty-ninth annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago last week. Kentucky president, L. F. Allen, was a member of the delegation attending.

Among those attending the national gathering from the State office at St. Matthews were J. E. Stanford, executive secretary; Joe Bettel, Wendell Howard, Morris Johnson, I. S. Wood and Mrs. Greenwood Coanor.

More than 5,000 farm people from 45 states and Puerto Rico were on hand for the week-long gathering. Memberships reported in the organization this year reach an all-time high of 1,750,000, all dues-paying organizations.

President Edward A. O'Neil, who retires this month after serving as head of A.F.B. since 1933, warned in his address that despite the fact that still exist in parts of the European area.

"It's high time farm people were given the chance of making their own decisions, and when diplomats will accept counsel and advice from the people who live on the land, produce the food and fiber that feeds and clothes humanity, and whose philosophy reflects the order and reason they observe in nature," he said.

Key to the foreign problem is "production and more production" of commodities and goods, and the elimination of barriers to distribution that still exist in parts of the European area.

Although speculation was rife concerning his successor, no one has been named for the place by County Judge Horace Barker within whose province it falls to appoint the Chief.

Bourbon Beef Brings Top Prices At Show

James R. (Buck) Rash, Jr., son of J. R. Rash, Henderson, president of the Kentucky State Fair, was awarded the second annual Bourbon Beef Show at the Bourbon County Fair last week when Bourbon beef sold for just $3 a hundred over market sale, with more than 1,100,000 pounds of cattle disposed of.

The grand champion, a 920-pound Hereford, sold for $1,365, or $1.50 a pound. This was 50 cents more per pound than the $1 bid last year and netted the owner, J. D. Gay, Jr., Pine Grove, a profit of $1,365.

The number of World War II veterans enrolled in educational and job-training courses in Kentucky was 43,321, including 33,209 in educational courses and 10,118 in job-training programs.

Subsistence Payments For Vets, Holidays

"There will be no reduction in the amount of the subsistence payments for veterans who are out of school during the holiday recess, Veterans Administration officials in Lexington, Ohio, said today.

Student veterans will continue to receive the full subsistence allowance to which they are entitled. The time they are on holiday vacation will be deducted from their period of eligibility.

The number of World War II veterans enrolled in educational and job-training courses in Kentucky was 43,321, including 33,209 in educational courses and 10,118 in job-training programs.

State Small Game Refuges Being Marked

Many small game refuges in the state soon will be marked by new aluminum signs which have been ordered by the Department of Game and Fish. These markers will be substituted for the firecracker signs which deteriorate quickly and which, such areas formerly were marked.

There are 160 refuges in the state, and the markers are being contracted for at an average of about eight a week throughout the state. The 4-1/2 inch by 6-1/2 inch signs will be made of 250 to 500 acres. Quail is furnished by the Division in these areas on game refuges, the use of dogs and firearms is barred.

Jefferson Stockmen Get Record Prices At Show

Louisville, Dec. 24.—Calculation of the final averages from the Second Annual Bourbon Beef Show held here at the Bourbon Stockmen's showed that an all-time sales record was set at the sale.

No less than 330 "Bourbon beefs" weighing 675 to 745 pounds were sold in the sale for a gross of $331,717.50. This gave an average of $489.60 per hundredweight, which is the highest average not only for the Bourbon Stockmen but for the South and has only been surpassed once, and that by Chicago's International Sale. The average weight was 1,070 pounds.

According to the show's general manager, James R. "Buck" Rash, Jr., Henderson the following local cattlemen sold the number of head to packers for the listed prices:

Skyline Farm, R. H. Shoop manager, Prospect, one head to Hy-Grade Meat Products Company for $40; one to E. Kahn's Sons Company, $40; and four to E. Kahn's Sons Company at $40.50.

Norman Dick, Prospect, one to E. Kahn's Sons Company at $39, and 15 to Val Decker Packing Company at $35.75.

L. L. Lyons Brown, Ashbourne Farm, Prospect, one to Louisville Provision Company at $35.50, one to E. Kahn's Sons Company at $36, and two to E. Kahn's Sons Company at $32.

Woodland Farm, Owensley Brown, Prospect, five to E. Kahn's Sons Company at $32.25.

H. L. and W. K. Kerlin, Prospect, two to Hy-Grade Food Products at $37.75, four to E. Kahn's Sons Company at $35.

G. W. Gutermuth, Cherry Hill Farm, Louisville, one to Val Decker Packing Company at $35.50, one to Armour's Meat Products at $39, and one to E. Kahn's Sons Company at $35.

H. L. Swain, Lexington, one to Val Decker Packing Company at $35.50, one to E. Kahn's Sons Company at $35, and four to Emmart Packing Company at $34.75.

Choyeland, H. W. and C. A. Bastin, Anchorage, three to Louisville Provision Company at $35.75, and one to Val Decker Packing Company at $33.75.

Robert Byron, Louisville, one to Louisville Provision Company at $40.

COMMUNITY TINCUPPING

Communities, like individuals, lose their self-respect when they become beggars. Sending delegations of persuasive citizens to Washington or Frankfort to beg money to pay for civic improvement or by taxation may have a gloss of respectability, but in the last analysis it is tincupping. And it lowers community morale just as surely as panhandling lowers the morale of an individual.

Maybe I am treating the subject rather bluntly. If you think so after reading this little essay, write a letter to the paper, telling wherein I am wrong.

In the last dozen years, community self-reliance has sagged considerably. Cities and towns have gone to Washington for money to pay for things they should have paid for themselves.
And they have been encouraged in their begging by the national government.

The Federal government has even furnished money to help pay the salaries of policemen and firemen. And the result has been not only a weakening of community self-reliance but a drift toward centralization of political power that is contrary to the principles on which the framework of county and municipal government was written into the constitutions of the nation and of the states.

Maybe the tincup evil will have to be cured both at the top and the bottom. I don't profess to know a sure-fire remedy. But it is obvious that if Kentucky communities are to strengthen their self-reliance they must do things for themselves.

Signs of improvement are showing in some towns and counties already. Greenup wanted a recreation center. The people went down into their jeans and got the money to pay for the land.

Hopkinsville is going to pay for a public swimming pool by popular subscription. Carrollton is raising funds to pay for a new hospital.

In the next few weeks you will hear about other community projects that are to be paid for by the people themselves.

And you can bet your boots that every community that pays for its own civic improvement will start a second project within a year. It will have gone a long way toward strengthening its civic morale.

Figurative tin cups will go to rubbish dumps, and the people will be thrilled by renewed confidence in their ability to handle their own local problems.

Legends of Holly

Many beliefs are connected with the Christmas holly.
Legends relate that the crown of thorns was plaited from the holly,
the white berries turning red like drops of blood after the crucifixion.

It is said that whoever brings the holly into the house
first, either husband or wife, is the one who will rule in the coming year.

For many years
the superstition persisted that holly was helpful to witches. It was placed on doors and windows to keep out evil spirits.

Reduce Christmas Hazards With Care

To avoid tragic Christmas accidents in the home, the Fire Protection Institute issues these precautionary tips:

—Use a flame-proof compound to spray wreaths and other pine decorations.

—Use materials marked flameproof for tree trimmings and home decorations if they are obtainable.

—Inspect Christmas tree lights,
and repair frayed wires or loose sockets.
